

Pteranodon

P—He was the pilot of the prehistoric sky.

T—He looked terrific when he spread his wings to fly.

E—His eyesight was quite good, he saw most everything.

R—He was a reptile even though he had two wings.

A—The air would carry him above the ocean deep.

N—He built his nest high on some prehistoric peak.

O—He floated overhead like some great aeroplane.

D—He was the dinosaur who had the smartest brain.

O—The only one who grew a horn to match his beak.

N—He never ran around—his legs were much too weak.

He hadn't any feathers but his leather wings worked swell.

He was the largest living thing that ever flew so well.

We've used all of the letters of his name here in this song.

Put them all together and they spell Pteranodon.

P-T-E-R-A-N-O-D-O-N spells Pteranodon.
